

WE NOMINATE

Roger Henry McDonough, a far-seeing and highly competent public official and a major force in the development of New Jersey's $7.2 million cultural center, the dedication of which dominated the weekend news emanating from election-conscious Trenton. For almost two decades the 56-year old McDonough, a resident of Princeton since 1951, has "quietly been performing miracles" as Director of the Division of the State Library, Archives and History and has helped lift the State's Public Library System to the point where it can be ranked—behind New York, California and one or two others—among the "top six" in the nation.

The new white-marbled State Library, housing 600,000 volumes and including one of the country's distinctive legal and legislative reference services, symbolizes much that has been accomplished during the 18 years McDonough has held his portfolio, a post tracing its origins back to the 1790's. As he has worked for the well-being of 1,500 libraries in New Jersey, ranging from meagre school collections to specialized research libraries, he has seen the "library come of age as a human institution" to the degree that New Jersey libraries in all categories will qualify for some $6.0 million in Federal and State Funds before the end of 1965.

A high school job as a library page in his native Trenton "Sold" McDonough. He completed a business course in Trenton High School, became intrigued with the possibilities of library service, and qualified for admission to Rutgers by combining library employment with two years of night school. In his Rutgers undergraduate years he was a part-time library assistant and, upon graduation in 1934, was named the University's Reference Librarian. Three years later, after graduate training at Columbia, he was designated Librarian of the City of New Brunswick, a position he held until 1942 and to which he returned in 1946 following World War II duty with the Army Air Force.

By 1956 McDonough, a member of the Borough of Princeton's Zoning Board and Vice President of the Princeton Historical Society, had forged the kind of record which was recognized by Rutgers with the presentation of the honorary degree of doctor of letters. The occasion was the dedication of the then new Rutgers Library and McDonough was cited in part as "leader in title and in fact of your profession in New Jersey," an alumnus continuing to serve as a member of both the Advisory Board of the Rutgers Graduate School of Library Service and the Rutgers University Press Council.

In addition to spearheading vigorous cooperative action in New Jersey by municipalities, counties and the State, McDonough, whose wife is Princeton High School Librarian and supervisor of libraries in the Borough Schools, has been an articulate spokesman for such organizations as the American Library Association and the National Association of State Libraries. Secretary of the New Jersey Tercentenary Commission, he has been a consultant to the U.S. Office of Education, and to the States of Connecticut, New Hampshire and Texas, and this fall is rounding out his duties as Secretary of the Commission to Study the Arts in New Jersey.

For his role in strengthening the public library as an integral part of the fabric of our society; for insisting that library standards of service must be raised ever higher; for his understanding of the ways in which the echelons of government can, and must, work together; he is our nominee as

MERGER VOTE NEARS
Additional Support Gained
Princeton will vote next Thursday afternoon and evening on the crucial question of merging the Borough and Township school districts.

As the referendum date draws near, more residents have declared themselves publicly on the subject of merger. This week, PAHR—the Princeton Association for Human Rights—announced its support of merger. 13 former members of the Borough Board of Education joined with the present Board to recommend merger, while one Board member, Mrs. Bericet Miller, announced her decision to vote against merger. (See "Mailbox," page 20) and another, Dr. Elmer Homrighausen, repeated his stand in favor of merger.

Mrs. Miller is the second "Borough Board member to leave the majority. Although all nine members of the Board signed the "Blue Book" report, two of them—Board president Graham Rohrer and now Mrs. Miller—have expressed their opposition.

"The common sense of merger stands on its own two feet," the Rev. Dr. Homrighausen stated. "From the beginning of my service on the Borough Board of Education, most members have felt that the Township was the one sending district we wished to be associated with eventually. This was one district we did not want to lose."

"The Township and the Borough are homogeneous communities. Their future is intimately associated. Together they can plan an educational future from a strong basis of operation."

"To reject this referendum would jeopardize our relationship and prevent reconsideration of unity for years to come," Dr. Homrighausen continued.

"We are not promoting an ideal school system under regionalization immediately; there will be many readjustments to make over the next five to ten years. In the light of this situation, I must fear regionalization, lest in 10 years to be criticized for not being able to read the signs of the times."

"Yes" from PAHR. PAHR's Executive Committee, confronted with the differing and strongly-held opinions on merger among PAHR members, deliberated many weeks before announcing that "the majority of us believe that under regionalization a better educational program can be offered at the most reasonable cost to Borough and Township citizens."

"The opportunities presented by merger, if properly pursued, far outweigh the disadvantages," the PAHR committee said. "We are concerned that, if regionalization is delayed, school expenses and therefore property taxes, will rise for both Township and Borough schools, but it will most deeply affect those in the lower income brackets. A rising tax rate is already segregating Princeton."

On pupil allocation, PAHR said, "We are unanimous in our conviction that pupil allocation in each of the Princeton schools must represent the racial composition of the whole community. We believe these children who do not attend multi-racial schools from an early age, are seriously handicapped in understanding the multi-racial nature of our society."

PAHR then announced its support of a proposed committee to examine pupil allocation.

Neighbor vs. Neighbor

Without their principal knowledge, John H. Wallace Jr. and John B. Grover, who live next door to each other on Library Place, are the contributors to this week's "Why I Plan to Vote" series on school merger.

Mr. Wallace, former head of the Township Committee, is administrative director of Princeton University's Central Research Center. He writes in favor of regionalization. Mr. Grover, president of the lumber company which bears the family name, is opposed. Their viewpoints appear on page 10.

location—was suggested at meeting held last month between school officials, and residents of the Witherspoon area, "on the condition that representatives of the John Witherspoon area be chosen by the residents themselves, not by the boards of education."

Cites School Needs. PAHR's executive committee pointed to the needs for a strengthened educational program in Princeton schools and a stronger pre-school program for children "with two strikes against them because certain skills have not been developed in early childhood."

In addition, PAHR suggested in-service teacher training in human relations to overcome "both conscious and unconscious prejudice on the part of all teachers" and a more individualized guidance program. Former members of the Borough Board of Education who have expressed their approval of merger are Harry Farr, Mrs. Elizabeth Cawley, Dr. Henry Abrams, Mrs. Esther Roberts, Mrs. Grace Loesch, Professor Jeremiah Finkel, Professor Carlos Bakula, Wilbur Kerr, George Look, Professor Hubert Ayles, Mrs. Thelma Young, Mrs. Jean Perkins and Datus Smith.

Mrs. Irving Mershon, widow of the Board's former secretary, has also announced her "Yes" vote.

"In Best Interests." Mr. Farr was on the Board for 13 years, including 1948 when "The Princeton Plan" went into effect. "There wasn't a day 'Princeton Plan' has observed. It was just common sense. We are lucky geographically."

"Regionalization has been in the minds of Borough Board members for years," comments Mrs. Cawley, who was president of the Board for two of her four years' service.

"Regionalization will be in the best interest of the educational system in spite of an increase in taxes which I believe it may necessitate," says Dr. Abrams. The physician adds a defense of the Board president. "It is unfair to castigate Graham Rohrer for speaking his mind." Dr. Abrams says, "He has gone far beyond the call of duty in the time he has devoted to planning and executing the building of the new John Witherspoon School."

Besides Mr. Farr, Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Loesch have written public letters of support. See "Mailbox," September 16 and 22 and "Why I Plan to Vote," September 16.

Joint Recreation Board and the Board's professional consultant said.
There will also be 15 community tennis courts in Community Park by next summer.

After seeing the consultant's plans, the two governing bodies told the Recreation Board to proceed immediately with specific engineering designs so that work can begin March 1 for a May 30 completion.

The estimated cost for the pools is $350,000 and the Township will be the banker. Township administrator Joseph R.
Nini says that Committee will introduce the required ordinance at Monday night's meeting, and Mayor Henry S. Patterson says that Borough Council will support a resolution approving the Borough's share when Council meets on October 12.

The two municipalities will divide the cost according to the ratables formula, currently by Borough, 40%; Township,

Three Pools Plans call for three pools: a 30-meter Olympic pool, 164 ft. five inches 60 feet wide and three to four feet deep; a 5000 foot diving pool, 9 to 10 feet deep with five boards and maybe a tower and a junior training pool.

of 1200 square feet, ranging depth from nine inches to two and one-half feet. There has been a lot of talk of diving towers which might be named after the late Princeton's Olympic diving star.
A bath house of 8,000 square feet will have lockers, showers, machinery and the like, and will also serve as the controlling point for exit and entrance.

The $350,000 does not cover the entire cost of the pool complex, but design work must be done immediately on the basic elements if the May 30 deadline is to be met. Landscaping, walkways and paths linking the pools, parking facilities and equipment will bring additional costs, but these can be ordi-nanced later.

Details of pool policy have not yet been worked out by the Recreation Board. The pools will be free all the time, some of the time or none of the time. What about swimming classes? How many life guards will be needed? And so on.

Tennis court usage and playing fees have not yet been determined, either. The Recreation Board suggests nine fast-dry courts and all-weather courts for an estimated cost of $110,000. What about swimming classes? How many life guards
will be needed? And so on.

John Conroy, University tennis coach and Recreation Board member, says that rough grading will start in November so that the courts will be ready by the tennis season. The six all-weather courts may possibly double as basketball courts in winter.

CLEAN-UP WEEK SET
In Township Fall Clean-up Week in the Township will be October 4 through October 8 identified in time to clean up work in the Borough.
Residents are urged to remove rubbish and debris from yards, cellars, attics and vacant lots. This will help eliminate the threat of fire and the menace of rodents and mosquitoes.

Material should be placed in containers at the curb on regular collection days. If tied into bundles, brush and branches will also be taken, but only bundles which can be lifted by one man will be collected.

Additional information is available at the Township Engineering Department, 921-7077.

AND NOW IT BELONGS TO THE BOROUGH: When this picture was taken, in 1894, this building housed the Princeton Inn. Later, it was the home of Miss Fine's Seminary. Tuesday at 2 p.m., it became the property of the Borough of Princeton in the final step of an exchange whereby Princeton Theological Seminary bought Miss Fine's then turned it over to the Borough in exchange for the old Borough Hall. The Borough will raise the building about January 1 and build a new Borough Hall on the site. The Seminary hasn't said exactly what it plans to do with the present Borough Hall.

A. Moore and Dr. Harvey D. Rothberg.

Raubinger Confirms

In a letter sent this week to all Princeton news media, Frederick Raubinger, New Jersey's Commissioner of Education, clarified his responsibilities in regard to Borough-Township school merger.

He reminded Princeton voters that, according to law, he has reviewed all the information sent to him by Borough and Township School Boards, and "after study and investigation has deemed it advisable for the two districts to unite."

Commissioner Raubinger also pointed out that his approval does not constitute approval of any school organizational plan. This must be worked out by the Borough and Township residents who join to form the new board.

On the other side, Dean Homrighausen made his first plea for merger support. A Princeton resident for 27 years, a board member for 21, at the board table, and his remarks were greeted with prolonged applause.

Regional Board Attorney William Miller moderated the session. Questions from residents and board members included:

• Will the Borough ever have full representation on the Regional Board? A—Yes, if the entire Township moved in to the Borough. (Much laughter.)

• In a regionalized high school, what would the representation be? A—Exactly the same, five from the Borough and four from the Township, with a representation after the 1970 census.

• Would it be legally possible for members of elementary school boards to be on the Regional Board? A—Yes, if the entire Township moved in to the Borough. (Much laughter.)

lary school boards to serve on a regionalized high school board? A—Yes.

● What is so horrible about two school districts? We have been doing it for a long time. A—(from Dr. Lively) The difficulties in blending into the high school the children with varying educational training in the elementary schools of the sending districts He noted that one of the goals of merger is a fluent, kindergarten through 12th grade program.

● Could you have one superintendent of schools for three school boards? A—It is possible The superintendent of the Rancocas Valley Regional High School was also superintendent of the Mt. Holly Elementary School (The answer was given by Dr. Edward Glosby of the Division of Disputes and Controversies of the State Department of Education, present at the behest of Commissioner Frederick Rauninger).

Educational Values. ● We have had the option of 4-year-old kindergartens in the Borough since 1920 I want to make sure we don't drop one of the best points of our school system. Would there be such a kindergarten under regionalization? A—(from Dr. Latchewer) Both Boards are on record as favoring it.

● Do they have one in the Township? A—(Mrs. Strayer) No. They haven't room, but they would under merger.

● If the Boards can guarantee 4-year-old kindergarten, why can't they guarantee a plan of pupil distribution? (Laughter) A—(from Mr. Miller) This has to be left up to the regional board.

End-of-September Song

*The frost is on
The summer rose,
Time to fare
That garden hose.*

Last week's muggy and unreasonable heat vanished quickly at the strong urging of an imperious Canadian high and the result has been pleasant — it is almost unmeasurable in the other direction. A warming trend is due, however, with temperatures returning almost to normal levels. Showers are possible over the weekend.

● How many years of Township growth before the new John Waterspoon school is overcramped? A—(from Mr. Buckland) The Borough has room for 50 more pupils, the Township for over 400.

This was disputed by Ciren Jack Turner who quoted Dilley Report figures showing that the Township's 1960 population of 10,400 would grow to an estimated 20,125 by 1975.

● What would regionalization do to improve our elementary school education, kindergarten through 5th grade? A—(from Dr. Lively) The least change comes to the elementary pupils — both systems could profit from more professional services.

Mr. Rohrer: I don't think any system that we join with is going to improve our K through-5 program. (Applause from anti-merger residents.) Under merger, we don't even know whether these children will be in 1, 2, 3 or 4 schools.

Integration. Under regionalization, what would happen to the Princeton Plan of integration of kindergartens through 5th grade? In the Township they started to bus Negro children around, then stopped and concentrated them in the Community Park School. They opened their schools in September 1963, with the same de facto segregation. A—(from Mrs. Strayer) We are going to have the best integration we can get. We are dedicated to this. It is a law and we must have it. (Mrs. Miller) We may not all be on the board in the future to defend integration.

● Why did the Borough Board of Education not spend $50,000 Dr. Stroup said he needed to bring the junior high school up to date? (A—(from Mrs. Buckland) An $50,000 jump on top of the other raises would be more than the public could stomach.

● What guarantee do we have for the current programs we have worked so hard for at the high school if regionalization comes in? A—(from Dr. Stroup) The high school is one of the most compelling reasons for regionalization.

After an inclusive discussion of whether or not to include the remaining debt on the high school, which is paid in part by the sending districts, in the total Borough school indebtedness, the board members read statements endorsing or opposing merger. They united in urging all Borough residents to vote on October 7.

son of Mrs. Katherine Graham, 206 Birch Avenue, died in Philadelphia Naval Hospital last week of a head wound received in Viet Nam in July.

Corporal Graham was shot through the head by a Viet Cong sniper on July 12 while on reconnaissance patrol near Da Nang. After brain surgery at the U.S. Air Force Hospital at Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines, he was flown to Philadelphia where he has been since August 9.

The Marine was a member of the Third Marine Division, which is part of the Marine personnel defending the Da Nang Air Base. He had previously served in Spain, Puerto Rico and Okinawa.

Mrs. Graham received the Purple Heart on her son's behalf at the Naval Hospital last month. Corporal Graham was in a coma from the time he was wounded until he died.

A native of Princeton, Corporal Graham left Princeton High School in June, 1962 at the end of his junior year, to join the Marine Corps. He was graduated from Parris Island boot camp in September, 1962 and was promoted to corporal on December 1, 1964.

He is survived also by his father, David T. Graham of Princeton; three sisters, Mrs. Lorraine Gordon of Trenton and Mrs. Dianne Taylor and Mrs. Faye Hinds of Princeton; his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Margaret A. Wooding of Princeton and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Laura Graham of Alabama.

PDS OFFICES ENTERED

Typewriters, Radios Taken
The number of thefts, both theftable and petty, reported by the Borough and Township police last week reflected a sharp increase.

Several rooms in the administration building of the new Princeton Day Schools on the Great Road were entered during the weekend by a thief, who apparently, police said, used a key to gain entry.

There was no sign of forced entry.

Taken were a new, portable typewriter—still in its carton—valued at $112 and an electric typewriter worth $235. Also a transistor radio, $40; a portable radio, $25, and a tape recorder, value not known.

Business Manager Carl Storey reported the theft on Monday, investigating the incident is Township Detective Fred Porter.

Some time early last week the home of Joseph S. Wisniewski, 125 Clover Lane, was entered and ransacked.

After breaking a screen in a rear storm door leading to a playroom, the intruder first removed a $100 portable TV set from the playroom. A dining room bureau drawer yielded a set of stainless steel silverware valued at $125 to $150 and six demitasse cups, $20.

A lady's gold ring with diamond chips, value not known, was taken from the master bedroom. Township Detective Norman Servis is investigating the theft which occurred when the home was unoccupied.

Mrs. Nicholas G. Cameron, Cherry Valley Road, reported the theft Saturday of an 18-inch, gilt-edged antique mirror

Flouridation Reaffirmed

Both Borough and Township Boards of Health have reaffirmed their stand in favor of flouridation, and will communicate on once again with the Princeton Water Company ordering the company to fluoridate.

The central district State Health Officer, Isidor Markowitz, has informed the boards that if they want to, they can petition the Public Utilities Commission for an order requiring the water company to show why it has n't fluoridated. The boards have not yet decided whether to take this action.

For the reaction of the newly-formed Citizens' Water Committee to the Board Health's action, see Mailbox, page 35.

from the foyer of her home. She valued the mirror at $75 to $100.

Police said the thief entered the foyer through an unlocked screen door and removed the mirror from a wall. The main door to the house was locked. Mrs. Cameron placed the time of the theft between 9 Friday evening and 10 the next morning.

In other Township thefts, two tires and rims were stolen last week from a Public Service car parked overnight at Princeton Shopping center.

John D. Hamilton, 1939 Hall, Princeton University, reported the theft of two sport coats valued at $100 and a tailored suit made in England worth $130 from a trunk stored in the campus R.O.T.C. Armory.

Mr. Hamilton told police he had packed his clothes in June and discovered the articles missing when he returned this month. He said that a member of the Bureau of Students Aid told him there had been a theft at the armory during the summer, but Township police said that they had no record of any such entry.

The Borough had its share of thefts to report, too, including a theft of a television set.

Many women wonder if certain illnesses prevent successful permanent waving. It is difficult to generalize and state that a particular illness may affect hair condition and have a bearing on permanent wave results. The effect of various body ailments may differ with the individual and with the duration and severity of the illness. Some individuals may have straggly, glossy hair that provides a good foundation for permanent waving in spite of a body ailment; others may have hair that is dry and lifeless even though they are in good health. In each case, the hair structure itself is our raw material for the permanent wave and we depend largely upon our ability to evaluate its condition as to the many characteristics which affect permanent waving, rather than on information about the patient's health. You will receive the skilled knowledge it takes to give you a beautiful permanent at TAVENWOOD BEAUTY MANOR, 69 Palmer Square West, 924-3983.

STUDENT IS ASSAULTED

Nose Broken into 34 Pieces.
A 21-year-old Princeton youth is free on $100 bail, awaiting a court appearance Monday, after having been charged with assaulting a Princeton University junior early Sunday morning on Nassau Street, near Chapel Drive.

Donald R. Zuber, 21, 70 William Street, is scheduled to appear before Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tams to answer police charges of assault against Michael Turley, 20, 231, 1938 Hall. Police added that a similar complaint will be made against a 17-year-old companion of Zuber's who also took part in the assault.

Mr. Turley told police this story. He and another student, Robert Greco, 122 1937 Hall, had left Colonial Club shortly after 2 Sunday morning, accompanied by three girls. As they were walking down Washington Road toward Nassau, two young men came up behind them and kept stepping on the heel of his shoe.

This harassment continued on Nassau Street. Turley went on, until he finally turned around near the Chapel Drive and told his tormentor, "Knock it off!" Whereupon the smaller of the two, Turley said, grabbed him by the collar and the taller youth — later identified as Zuber — hit him from the side in the face, stunning him. At this point, he continued, the smaller youth also began to beat him about the face.

As a result of a police investigation and from statements by witnesses, Zuber was later arrested. Later, at police headquarters, Mr. Turley picked out the other youth from quite a number he was shown. "He picked him out right away," police said. Turley had told police he had previously seen the smaller of the two around town.

Police said a report from the University infirmary, where Mr. Turley had been taken, revealed that his nose bones had been shattered in 34 places.

DRIVER FINED $300
For Reckless and Violent, Jerry Ellar, 24, Princeton Inn, was fined $300 and 35 court costs Monday by Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. for driving while on the revoked list. According to the police, Mr. Ellar had been fined the year before for the car pleaded not guilty, was charged each other on Borough

In addition, he was fined $15 for failing to notify the Motor Vehicle Department of ser. 17, 15 Jefferson Road, a change of address. A third charged with careless driving, charge-falling to observe a were each fined $15. Police stop sign to which Mr. El said the two had been chas-

Why I Plan to Vote For Merger Against Merger

By John H. Wallace Jr.

By John B. Grover

I am going to vote for reorganization of the Borough and Township school systems because I am convinced the merger will result in better schools at less cost to the taxpayers. It is so rare today to get something better without having to pay more for it that the voters of the Borough and Township should not miss the opportunity.

Few of us have the time or are qualified to investigate the merits of the many facets of the problems involved. We must rely largely on the advice of others.

So who do we listen to for guidance? Is it those of proven competence and deep concern for education such as the Superintendent of the Schools, the members of the Boards of Education, the New Jersey Commissioner of Education and other persons or previously in similar positions? Or do we listen to those who, though interested and sincere, cannot with a few exceptions have the background and experience to guide us to a sound conclusion? The answer seems obvious.

In spite of this some people are still confused about the financial picture. I too had questions and have done everything I can to get the answers. Based on conversations with School Board members and others familiar with school taxes, I am now satisfied the merger will not increase Borough school taxes by more than a few pennies per $100 of assessed value. Properly valued and could actually bring about a reduction. I have given full weight to the lower Borough indebtedness for schools.

It is unfortunate that the opposition has added to the confusion by not including in their Borough debt figures $1,416,000 of Borough High School debt and $875,000 which the Borough will finally receive from the sale of the Nassau Street School. When these amounts are taken into consideration and when it is realized that the Township even now would carry 60% of the total debt charges, the $1,093,114 which Mr. Bohrer says will come out of the "Borough taxpayer's pocket" approaches a vanishing point. With Township ratings growing and those in the Borough remaining relatively constant.

By now it is clear to Borough residents that a "merger" of present school plants and present school debts means higher taxes in the Borough regardless of the advertising claims that promise "no increase in taxes."

The wide difference in school values in the two districts and the top-sided debt totals owed by the two school districts cannot now be dismissed as "insignificant." Certainly over a million dollars ($1,093,000) of additional tax burden to the Borough cannot be labeled "no increase." I can't buy it.

In spite of the Princetonians who have lent their names to support this strange claim of "no increase," the Borough Mayor has acknowledged that "Borough taxes will rise." This is an honest statement of fact. The Mayor has had some experience with tax bills.

Let's take the individual resident. On the basis of 1960 population figures and spread among every man, woman and child in the Borough, the present elementary school debt figures out to $130 per person. In the Township, however, each individual bears a staggering burden of $418 as his share of Township elementary school debt.

What does reorganization do to these figures? First the two debts are consolidated, with the Borough assuming approximately 60% of the consolidated debt. Consequently, each Borough resident will bear $208 of the burden instead of his original $130. On the other hand, the Township resident's share will drop to $313. Not significant?

The Blue Book financial figures do not reflect, or even admit, future elementary school growth in the Township, which the Dilley Report states will double in population from 1960 to 1980. Projections of finances and costs can scarcely be deemed accurate if they fail to admit the population explosion.

Blue Book finances do not reflect the money needed to moderate the Valley Road School, which was built in 1918. They set no figures for the building of "recommended" new gym libraries, etc. in other Township schools at the time between 1940 and 1960, the Township spent $2½ million dollars for necessary school expansion, while the population was approximately doubling.

Just how hard a task you take at financing of this deal seems to depend on how badly you want merger. How many dollars of tax money are really insignificant? One Million? Two and a half?

So the question seems to me to be this—why not put this first million-plus into our Borough Schools instead of using it to pay off the Township's school debt? Why not honestly admit that the Township will need several new schools in the foreseeable future, for which the Borough taxpayer is asked to pay a 40% share? Why pretend that per-pupil costs per year are the only figures that are really significant to Borough taxpayers? "No increase in taxes" ought to mean exactly that. Perhaps the signers of pro-merger ads ought to reconsider their position.

In education, of course, money isn't everything. The very least we can expect from our school representatives is a forthright statement of what—Continued on Page 13

For Merger

this 60'-will undoubtedly increase thus favoring the Borough.

• We in the Borough naturally wonder further about the future and we quite properly should. We must realize that without regionalization the Township may well build their own high school, unfortunately that would be.

If it did, the Borough would be faced with much higher expenses. No dollar figure can be placed on the lower quality of high school education which would undoubtedly ensue. The Borough should not gamble re-

Still more confusion has been caused by the injection of the integration issue with the inferences of changes which would destroy the Princeton Plan. Both School Boards have made their opinion very clear on this point. They are fully committed to increasing rather than reducing the distribution of children throughout a merged school system. Most of us who will elect future Boards are similarly committed. Since the Reverend A. D. Tyson, Jr., whose position and leadership in our Community's integration efforts is well known, has dealt most effectively with this in his recent statement

Person To Person

We read some interesting things about the history of coins. The Greeks of Asia Minor who lived on the coast of Ionia about 700 B. C. are believed to be the first to adjust a lump of metal to a certain weight and stamp it with an identifying mark. These "coins" were bean shaped, of an alloy called electrum, a natural mixture of gold and silver. About the same time or slightly later, coins appear to have been invented in China and India. Refinements in design and art evolved in Greek and Roman coinage until the fall of the Roman Empire. 476 A.D. It was not until 1793 that the first regular U.S. coin were minted. The subject is too extensive to be more than touched on here, but as you know we have only one specialty: delivering top, economical service to you, with true bargains in new and used cars! Kammer Buick-Pontiac Co., Route 206, opp. Princeton Airport, 921-2222.

In this series, it should no longer be a point of concern. Belding, after having lived in the Borough and the Township for over twenty years, has been involved in many Community affairs. He is known as a public issue in Princeton Borough and Township residents to recognize the importance to the future of their vote on October 7.

Against Merger

I will really cost the Borough to regionalize. I have decided for myself whether the "benefits" are worth the price. As a businessman, I like to know what things will cost before I make an important move which is irrevocable. I plan to vote "No."

Topics Of The Town

Between two parked cars on Clay Street. He was treated at Princeton Hospital for a laceration of his forehead.

The driver, Theodore B. Williams, 51, 60 Cuyler Road, told police he had just pulled from a parking place where the boy darted into his path. There were no charges.

Lewis Fabbrro, 37, of Trenton was charged with failing to keep right and leaving the scene of an accident by P.I. Anthony Rantone Sunday after he struck another car on Nassau near Wilton and continued on. The incident took place 40 minutes before midnight.

Borough Police asked Ewing Township police to arrest Mr. Fabbrro when a witness supplied them with the model, color and registration number of the fleeing car.

Correction

In its issue of September 23, TOWN TOPICS repeated that the Princeton Packet had asked the Township Planning Board for permission to use a property line on its Witherpoon Street land in order to prohibit vehicles of the Tiger Bus Line from using an adjacent driveway. Actually, Morris Lipschitz, representing Tis Lipschitz and the Packet are applying jointly for a minor subdivision which would join the land and permit vehicles from the Packet to exit on Witherpoon Street and buses from the adjacent property to exit on John Street.

car had crossed over a solid yellow line, police said, and drove the left front end of the car driven by John Schnakenberg, 60, Route 2. A witness said Mr. Fabbro was driving very erratically at the time.

In the Township, Kevin Vernon, 32, 293 Witherspoon street, was observed on Route 10 Hospital for observation, following an accident at the intersection of Race Street and Birch Avenue this week in which his bicycle ran into the side of a car.

Yonng Vernon told police he was being chased by dogs and he went through the Race Street stop sign and hit a car driven by Clara Smith, 56, of Cookstown, which he said he did not see. A passenger on his bike, Tony Boone, 14, 116 Leitch Avenue, later complained of a headache while in school and he, too, was taken to the hospital for observation.

On Monday, Paul R. Zibicki, 42, Cleveland, was slightly injured when the entire left side of his small foreign car was damaged by a bus on the Princeton-Kingston Road.

Police said a Suburban Transit bus operated by Stuart W. Morris, 29, of Trenton, was passing Mr. Zibicki's car near the intersection of Swenden when the latter made a left turn into the path of the bus. None of the passengers on the bus was injured.

Facts in 1-95 Asked

The Community League of Montgomery Township has asked Governor Hughes to make public all information on controversial Interstate Highway I-95 at least 10 days before the November 2 election.

The Community League made its request in a letter last week, "in view of the impression widely held that this information is not to be released until after the November election." Joel Nyström is president of the organization; Mrs. E. H. White is assistant secretary.

I-95, originally routed by State Highway officials through the northwest corner of Princeton Township, is now believed to pass north of the Township, south of Hopewell and Pennington, and on through Montgomery Township. The projected highway would extend northeast across New Jersey's middle.

Jury after one of the victims could not positively identify him. Richardson was being tried for an attack upon Raymond and Mary Watts, who were robbed of $200 in their store on Route 206 on November 27, 1963.

Mrs. Watts testified that she could not positively identify the 31-year-old Richardson, since the three bandits involved in the attack were wearing partial face masks at the time. Her late husband had identified Richardson at an earlier trial in February, but the jury failed to reach a verdict at that time.

The saucer, known as GEM, or Ground Effect Machine, is operated by a 2-cycle lawnmower engine. It rides on a cushion of air and is controlled by the motion of the body of the Girl Scout demonstrating it.

Acting as demonstrators will be Barbara Heigh, a junior at Princeton High, and Gail Tomenchock, a senior at Notre Dame High.

The fair, which will last until 4 p.m., is under the direction of A. C. Reeves Hicks and John Mooney.

News Of The THEATRES

NEWAY IS "COURAGE"

Singer-Actress to Star, Patricia Neway will play "Mother Courage" in the opening play of McCarter Theatre's Fall Drama Series.

Bertolt Brecht's drama, in the Eric Bentley translation, will open on Friday, October 8 at 8 p.m., and will play in repertory through November 20 with "Coriolanus," "Major Barbara" and "Enemy of the People."

Princeton audiences will remember Miss Neway as the governess in Benjamin Britten's opera, "The Turn of the Screw" which was given in McCarter in February, 1963. She is probably best known, however, for her portrayal of the Mother Abigail in the original New York production of "The Sound of Music."

As a singer and actress, she has had a distinguished career in the United States and Europe, singing in Menotti's "The Consul," in the television production of Poulenc's "Dialogues of the Carmelites," and on Broadway as Lady Thing in "The King and I." She sang in the New York Opera Company production of "Salome" also.

MARCEAU NOUVEAU
Mime at McCarter. When Marcel Marceau comes to McCarter Monday at 8:30, he will bring with him an entirely new program, so that theatre-goers who saw him in McCarter in 1962 will have a new experience.

His Princeton appearance will be a pre-Broadway opening, in a sense, because the French mime will not open his American tour officially until later in the season.

Famous to millions of Americans because of his many television appearances, M. Marceau most recently performed on the CBS special, "A Concert in Pantomime," with Red Skelton.

TWO IN THE HAND

Puppets, Obtrav's puppets have come back to the United States for an eight-week tour, following their successful journey in 1963 and McCarter Theatre will show them off to Princeton in a single performance on Sunday, October 17, at 3 p.m.

Adults and older children 12 and up, are the only who will appreciate Sergei Obtrav's to the fullest, and McCarter would like to urge the parents of very young children to leave them home.

Who is in Mr. Obtrav's puppet family? Well there's a highly volatile and aggressive Carmen, two shy lovers and a baby who doesn't want to go to sleep, among others.

Theatre-goers may meet them all by buying tickets at the McCarter box-office.

TOUCH TONE?

SHH "M" for Murder. Suspense, in "Dial M for Murder," arises from the efforts of the villain to divert the suspicion of other characters in the play from himself and to make his alibi hold firm.

The popular mystery melodrama will open Friday, October 8 at 8:30 at Murray Theatre under the Community Players banner and will play again Saturday, October 9 and the following weekend, October 15 and 16.

Tickets are on sale at Male's Book Shop. They may be purchased at Murray Theatre each night of a performance starting at 7:45. All seats are $2.

AFTER LASSIE, GO HOME

Kiddies First. They're going to show "Lassie, Come Home" first, at 7 p.m., in the Elizabeth Taylor Marathon due at McCarter this Saturday. This means kids can take the kiddies then show them home so you can settle down and watch Miss Taylor at 9 p.m. the same evening in "A Place in the Sun."

"Lassie" was made in 1944 when Miss Taylor was still a child star. By 1956, when she made "A Place in the Sun" with Montgomery Clift, she

tiful amoral model who climbs to the top of international activity in the latter, "Darling," new at the Garden.

Rice, a second-rate song and dance man more gifted in cheating, lying and using his friends than in song and dance.

GARDEN
Darling (now showing) is a jet set story of a model on the make.

Julie Christie in the lead role, at first takes life as it comes and then is determined to get as much out of it as she can. She ditched her husband for TV writer Dick Bogarde, then turns to a rich businessman, played by Laurence Harvey. She dabbles for a while with a photographer, and later captures an Italian banker, industrialist and nobleman Prince Jose Luis De Villahon-
ga. She becomes an international celebrity.

Her experiences are for adults only, as some are quite frank as to action, dialogue and situation. The performances are good, and the backgrounds are quite lavish.

PLAYHOUSE AND PRINCE
Once A Thief (now playing)
This is a standard gangster melodrama, with Alain Delon in the lead. The French actor has been seen here before in "The Yellow Rolls Royce."

appearing as a photographer on the Riviera with Shirley McLaine.

Cast opposite him is Ann-Margaret in the role of his wife. As an Italian immigrant in San Francisco who is trying to go straight after a stretch in prison, Delon is forced into one last "caper" by his criminal brother, played by Jack Palace. With three other hoods, they attempt to steal $1 million in platinum.

The show is fast-paced, soaked with San Francisco atmosphere from nightclubs to barbers.

IT'S NEW To Us

FASH THE SCENTS...

Shop is Satisfactory. Boudoir is, appropriately enough, right next to bath in the delectable little shop called Bath and Boudoir, just off West State Street in Trenton. It's worth the drive, but be sure you plan a late dinner: you'll stay in the shop, browsing away without realizing how long the showers are.

Roman luxury, French elegance and American imagination characterize the bath accessories. More than "accessories" — here's an alcove demonstrating how you can remodel your bath. An oval ivory bowl, rimmed with gold and set into an onyx frame, accepts water from a gold fountain graced by a little faun. Handles are gold shells, and the soap-tumbler-towel-accessories are golden shells, too. How about that shower wall mirror, framed with deep green velvet banded with gold?

re-do the whole bathroom (but what a lovely idea!). Bath and Boudoir has the accessories for a dress-up job. Why not buy a robe make-up mirror surrounded, actress style, by theatrical light bulbs? Treat yourself to a certain taffeta shower curtain, ($9) moon-grammed with matching towel. We say "certain," nine other colors in the set give you room for choice. We like the pink, green, rose pailley shower curtain almost as much. And why not buy floor-length strands of colored beads (pink, red, blue...)?

And hang them, mixing the colors if you like, from the shower hooks?

Waste and tissue baskets may be informal, like the tassels, or suave, like the cherry moire. Bath and Boudoir has a particularly fond of gold, and displays antiqued Florentine gold boxes (one of them a huge, flat oblong) and charming little gold-framed in miniature in the French or Italian style.

One Closet has been outfitted, completely in gold, from the paper, with its gold wreaths against a beige background, to the garment bag that matches, to the harmonizing garment bag in translucent fabric edged with antiqued gold. Hangers are ivory and gold.

And just across the way, is a delightfully refreshing oasis: a child's closet set with striped quilted bangers in pink, blue, red or yellow, a collapsible tray for serving orange juice to a sniffling victim (it has armchairs on its wheels, says a cold will keep you away from school?) and a cuddly pajama bag — a pale blue poodle with white rabbit hair trim.

Stepping out of the tub, we reach for a magnificent orange terry robe full length, made of about 100 yards of fabric, wide and full, held casually to your shoulders by a gold drawstring cord.

A Roman robe in striped terry has a zip front and looks for all the world like those Near Eastern Kaftans. Its stripes are like Joseph's coat itself; in fact, we see a great future for this robe in Sunday School pageants.

An acelia blanket — well, it looks like a blanket — has blue and gold anemone, long-sweeping robe. This one is deep violet, and its powder blue lining shows broadly at the wide, sweeping collar and cuffs turn back. Velvet pipes it narrowly all around.

Maribou feathers make a delicious little pile of fluff wear around your shoulders. The brief bed jacket is shy pink with a pink satin bow and silk lining.

Trouseau lingerie is a specialty of Bath and Boudoir, and you may have monogrammed and matching sets in white silk edged narrowly with blue or pale ivory with ecru. One case to suit gown has the narrowest satin piping and three ruffles in tiers.

One treasure of the house is a trio of brocade robes (red, ivory, gold), splendid for a larger woman, providing style and elegance without the grandmother look.

The cosmetic firm in residence at Bath and Boudoir is Mary Chess. Her cream perfume in exquisite Rococo pill-boxes is the most welcome small present any woman could imagine.

To reach Bath and Boudoir from Princeton: Olden Avenue Extension to Parkside, left on Parkside to the pink with a pink satin bow and silk lining. To West State, right on State to a Thriftway market, then bear quickly right into the Sanhian Shopping Center, B. & B. is next to the Center.

SUEDE - SHOD

You Said "Blasé?" Yes, blue. That worn old spring blue comes unexpectedly into fall at Nassau Shoe Tree with a sprightly deep royal miles away from the usual navy. You'll love its sassiness in a stacked heel Gillie with a "dollar" toe (that just means Round) and such a bright autumn freshness!

MUSIC In Princeton

LATINS COME NORTH

Puerto Rican singers, El Coro de la Universidad de Puerto Rico will present a concert of a capella music this Thursday at 8:30 in Alexander Hall on the University campus. The public is invited, and there will be no admission charge.

The University of Puerto Rico Chorus will appear under the sponsorship of the Princeton University Glee Club and the University, in a return gesture of hospitality. The Glee Club has frequently made spring vacation tours of Puerto Rico, and this is the first time that the Coro has returned the visit.

The Coro has toured the United States frequently, singing a mixed repertoire of classic compositions and Latin American folk songs.

PROGRAMS ANNOUNCED

For Chamber Group. Works by composers as widely separated in time and style as Vivaldi and Shostakovich will be performed in the course of the three-concert series scheduled by the Princeton Chamber Orchestra for its inaugural subscription season. Concerts will be under the direction of Nicholas Harsanyi, music director and conductor for the Chamber Orchestra on Monday, October 25 (at 8:30 in McCarter, Eugene List, pianist, and Robert Naegele, trumpet, will be soloists in the Shostakovich Concerto for Piano, Strings and Trumpet, Op. 35).

The program will also include Haydn's Symphony No. 46 in B, Schoenberg's "Verklärte Nacht" and the Vivaldi concerto for Two Violins, Cello and Orchestra. On March 28, Pretti and Laygoys, duo guitarists, will play a duo-guitar concerto, one story venture from small ships on the Arctic Ocean. Producer John Wummer will be flute of a number of travel-explorer films, his specialty is the orchestra and flute, and the feral ways of life. The film students attended a showing of the Bach Brandenburg Concerto No. 3 in D major, voted to Sicily, Sardinia, Corsica, North Africa, the Balearic Islands, Gibraltar and the Spanish mainland.

For its final concert, on April 25, the Princeton Chamber Orchestra will present an all-Mozart program consisting of the Symphony No. 35 in B-flat, K. 519; the Sinfonia Concertante, K. 364 and the Violin Concerto in C major, K. 339.

Soloists for the April concert will be Helga Kewelwasser, violinist, Karen Tuttle, violinist, and the singers of the Westminster Choir.

REVEN RETAINED

To Direct Workshops. Emile Remon, operatic stage director and singer, will direct the fall workshop program for the Princeton Opera Association. The workshop, which began this week, is open to all qualified. Continued on Page 29

To Play for Pope
 Undergraduate members of the Pro Musica brass ensemble will be among the musicians who will play at the Solemn Mass to be celebrated by Pope Paul VI in Yankee Stadium Monday at 8:30 p.m. Pro Musica's members will also accompany the Metropolitan Chorus at an audience to be given by Pope Paul for religious leaders at the Holy Family Church in New York.
 Pro Musica, founded last year by Thomas J. Palewsky, 66, specializes in sacred music. For the Mass and the reception, the group will play the music of Palestrina and his contemporaries.

 ized singers in the Princeton area. Auditions may be arranged by conferring with Mrs. F. F. Schley, 100 Kingston Road, 921-2146.

In the past five years, Mr. Renan has directed "La Boheme" in Denver, "The Barber of Seville" in Miami for the Miami Opera Guild, and in collaboration, "The Marriage of Figaro," "The Taming of the Shrew," and "Tosca" on television. The NBC road company presented his "Marriage of Figaro."

Among his "firsts" are premieres of "The Good Soldier Schweik," "He Who Gets Slapped," "War and Peace," "Four Ruffians," "Capriccio," "The Dybbuk," "The Trial" and "The Rape of Lucrecia." His recent associations have been with the NBC Opera Theatre, where he served as director of characterization; the Pittsburgh Opera Company, the Chautauqua Opera Association, the New York City Opera Company, the San Antonio Symphony's Grand Opera Festival, the Baltimore Symphony and a three-month tour with the Boston Opera Group.

 with fine rust - green stitching.

Another surprise for fall is the pale, pale bone shade traced with black, with a slightly spectator air (in spite of the black-edged bow) and a matching bag with wide suede loop to hold it by. Another bag - shoe combination has heavy gold reptile on a gold suede pump, swaggering off with a suede bag trimmed with reptile.

That gold color, by the way, is referred to as "Tiger's Eye" by Mademoiselle, which uses it in a pump with matching suede band across the vamp. Pezillo uses a mustard - gold suede for that old Palatin favorite, the high-heeled pump with the flat gold bow.

One of the sweetest little shoes for fall is Footprints' black calf with naive round toe and little lizard medallion in tobacco brown assuming the neck.

Spoken-of buckles, look at Shoe Tree's collection for your pair of classic black pumps: here's one in cut steel with that dark glitter, here's another with chunks of red sapphire and smoky glass set close in a shaped oblong.
 If you want something more than a black classic, Shoe Tree suggests Jacques Levine's black crepe along pump with rust and grey flower and leaf design. The bag, with slim gold chain, matches.
 For autumn festivity, there's a bronze satin whose T-strap is wide enough for a track of brown velvet and an edging of gold. A gleaming shoe: much too pretty to hide under a cocktail table.
 Black fallie surrounds the evening pump elched with braid and appliqued with a quiet tri-toe design on the toe. This is a "detail" shoe: one you appreciate most when you examine it closely.

COLD ANTONY
 You Will Be, Elise Goupil has looked into her almanac and she informs us that winter will be here. Against the day and the wind, she has laid in a supply of good, warm winter suits woven of French wool, or, in some cases, knit of French wool.
 Our first choice is a three-piece in gold, olive and lime, all stirred together to make the most wonderful soufflé of warmth. It has a three-quarter coat, a sleeveless wool popover and a skirt, all fully lined with a green crepe in the skirt, smooth satin in coat and popover.
 The lapels are wide enough for a scarf, the buttons hold the jacket together snugly. The suit comes in a deep, vibrant turquoise, too, but those greens . . . !

A briefer jacket, but still a longish one, tops a nubbed tweed in raspberry, pink and powder blue. These lapels are rolled back and there are two patch pockets to keep your fingers warm. For a dressier suit, Elise Goupil suggests the shell pink-grey loopy tweed with its pink silk shantung popover. (All other popovers are wool).
 Deep olive and cream diagonal tweed stripes mark off a three-piece with slightly fitted jacket built with a tiny fabric bow at the waist. An interesting "U" stitching brings character to the jacket.

A triple - knit three-piece, still from the French, is bright cherry cherry with the look of tweed in its faint bondstitch. Its jacket has a low-slung belt in back starting from the double breasted buttons in front. This overblouse is really a sashed tunic, in sleeveless black knit with a loose turtle neck.

Triple-knit a second time, this one with wide, flaring skirt and a sporty jacket with nine-inch-long front belt and wide belis around the sleeves. The knit is an avocado olive mix with an orange toe and little lizard medallion in tobacco brown assuming the neck.

Mr. Carothers Defended.
To the Editor of Town Topics: In view of Mr. Chase's letter to Town Topics, last week, which he referred to Mr. Stuart Carothers' "curious financial theories" and his position as "an assistant in the script to my letter to the editor," I would like to add this postscript to my letter to the editor of September 23.

Clarification Offered.
The issue raised by Mr. Carothers in his article "Why I Plan to Vote Against Merger" does not concern his qualifications to express an opinion for or against the proposed merger of Princeton Borough and Township schools. I am simply stating that he is, in my opinion, financially qualified to do both, and that he has read the Blue Book, which I owe him a public apology for any implied criticism of his qualifications.

Mr. Carothers' correct title is Assistant Director, Office of Research Administration, Princeton University. He is an honors graduate in Economics from Princeton University (1945), an honors graduate of St. Louis University Law School (1955), a lawyer, and a member of the Missouri Bar. He is currently returning to Princeton University in the 1962-63 academic year to teach in the Department of the Accounting and Finance. He is also a member of the University of the Universal Match Corporation in St. Louis, Missouri.

Since it doubtless had some influence on Mr. Carothers' knowledge of economics and financial matters, it might be mentioned that his father, the late Dr. Neil Carothers, was an internationally-known economist, a former member of the Princeton faculty, and an economic consultant to the numerous industrial organizations, governments, and foreign governments.

Mr. Stuart Carothers has three children in the Borough Public School System. He has a background and training in speaking intelligently on this merger issue. It is to be regretted that Mr. Chase did not attempt to answer. If he could, the very valid argument advanced by Mr. Carothers instead of trying to belittle his position with the University in this article, may be more convincing.

merger in the high school alone.

Regimentation is necessary to save Princeton's outstanding college pre-paratory program. If the Township withdrew, the Borough high school would lose approximately one-third of its college-oriented students and proportionate citizen backing and financial support. Through resultant deterioration in the academic program and loss in prestige of the high school, many Borough students who today can afford college entrance might well knock in vain on college doors. Regimentation is the best means of meeting the needs of Borough and Township students in strong general and vocational programs, needs which are more similar than would be those of Borough, and sending district students alone. But probably the greatest value lies in stabilizing the Borough-Township student population under a Board of Education which could plan creatively well into the future. Borough uncertainties regarding the future of the high school would be ended.

Regimentation offers the Borough its unique opportunity to gain a junior high school of distinction. The Borough alone has too few students to make this possible without substantial increase in cost. This is evident in the limited numbers of teachers who are specialists, in restricted curriculum.

 culum offerings and guidance and health facilities and in fewer sections for maximum development.

Largely because of more pupils, the Township has made greater advances in this area, and the Borough would profit immediately through regionalization. More important, combined numbers and financial support would make possible one of the foremost junior high schools in the country.

Through regionalization the high quality of Borough elementary education would not only be retained but improved. Desirable educational services in psychology, health, and guidance, facilities, reading and speech specialists, and specialized subject teachers would be available. Administrators would continue to secure fine teachers. Integration could now be extended to provide greater educational opportunity for all the children of Princeton.

Finally, studies show that under regionalization Princeton Borough could have better education at less cost than if the districts were separated.

Mrs. Miller Opposed.

To the Editor of Town Topics: I had hoped, as a member of the Borough Board of Education, to be able to support merger of the Borough and Township schools. I have concluded, however, most reluctantly, that under the peculiar conditions of the public schools in Princeton Borough and Princeton Township that total merger of the two schools as long as there will be more harm than good educationally.

As well as there will be two separate Princeton, a totally merged system will still be divided internally by the invisible fence of the Borough-Township line. No matter what we do in the schools, there will still be no real unity of the community without municipal consolidation.

Educate ALL Our Children
 To the Editor of Town Topics: What is this "Princeton Plan"? The "Princeton Plan" was conceived 18 years ago to solve the demand of the imminent State Constitution. To believe that it is the ultimate good is to be blind to the fact that the aims of Public Education have expanded beyond simple integration, and that the standards and techniques of education have changed in these 20 years. We must get to the heart of them after and Merger would destroy the Princeton Plan of integration. It could easily result in a new and unnecessary racial issue in the schools.

What would merger do to improve the elementary schools? Nothing tangible in the Township and a net loss in the Borough. Even the claimed advantages to the 7th and 8th grades in the Borough could certainly be achieved directly and improved upon when all Borough grades are moved into the new John Witherspoon School, adjacent to the high school. This has recently been confirmed by our Superintendent. If it does cost somewhat more, this would be a much better investment than merger. Merger would force the Borough to change from a centralized K-8 school system, which will be housed entirely in the new John Witherspoon School in March, 1966, to the Township decentralized arrangement of neighborhood schools...

Merger can obviously do nothing to improve the high school, since we would have the same staff building, same faculty, same administration and the same students. At this level, the only possible benefit to the children of both communities is the elimination of the threat of the Township withdrawal from Princeton High School. No one can be certain today whether the Township voters would actually vote to break-out and build their own high school, for in doing so they would also hurt their own children. Nor can anyone be certain today that the Township voters would be willing to pay the greatly increased cost to them of a separate high school - 1966 to October to solve the basic problem of educating all our children to a good adulthood.

Unless we, in Princeton Borough, keep this simple point in mind - the basic problem of educating all our children - we will slowly but surely lose the image of excellence that has been so desperately built up in the past. Princeton Borough does not have enough pupils in its school system to maintain this standard. We owe it to our children and their children to vote YES for Regionalization on October 11.

 To the Editor of Town Topics:
 In the 16 September issue of Town Topics, a letter from a Borough resident listed more accurately the major objections to regionalization of our schools as voiced by Nassau Street School parents.
 At a recent Board of Education meeting, one member proposed to the entire board and the citizens present a plan of allocation that would answer these objections as follows:
 1. The new John Witherspoon would serve as a "neighborhood" school for Borough residents in K-5 primarily, and as a combined sixth grade for all Princeton students.
 2. It would continue the present "Princeton Plan" in both letter and spirit.
 3. It would, in fact, give

Dr. Munro Favors Merger.
 To the Editor of Town Topics:

As a long time resident of Princeton Borough (though no longer qualified to vote there) I can't resist putting in a note in favor of amalgamation of the Borough and Township School Systems.
 Both Borough and Township have had splendid records in the field of public education but undoubtedly the crowning achievement for our community was the famous Princeton Plan which went into effect in the Borough so smoothly and quickly some 15 years ago.

I feel that uniting the two school systems will have the effect of strengthening and broadening our Princeton Plan. The school districts for below 6th grades can be laid out to give much better integration in the township than is present now. Also less work now necessary for many little ones in the Borough can be cut down by redistricting and by a little judicious busing.
 A have all in the much superior and variegated junior high which will be made possible by the addition of the Township youngsters and the support of the Township exchequer, all races in the community will be benefited alike.

 If the parallel is drawn between the libraries and the schools, the correct factors Borough and Township would show the product, now about five years old, to be highly successful Joint Free Public Library of Princeton, — one library serving one community.
 The reason the merged library is successful is that the problems of communication between Borough and Township in the library area have been made simpler.

Communication between Borough and Township in the school area has not been effective. The Borough Board of Education in the direction of the High School has failed to recognize and meet the needs of that element making up 40% of the student body, the same element of the community paying the greatest share

To the Editor of Town Topics:
The Citizens Water Committee views with deep concern the apparent scorn for law exhibited by the Board of Health of Princeton Borough at its meeting September 21.

Some weeks ago, it announced that it was without legal power to order fluoridation of city water. Then, at its meeting September 21, it reversed itself, and after a discussion of words to be used, it acted officially to order the Water Company to fluoridate.

After all it is lovely and desirable place with fine modern amenities, tradition and large with money. A highly enviable town.

With due respect to Mr. Rothberg of the Township, Mr. Bender of the Township, Mrs. Rothberg of the Township and to Mr. Curtis, I believe that all of these "advisers" of the Township are somewhat fanatical. The stress under which they write and orate would seem to indicate that they have a tremendous lot to say for themselves and that losing would be disastrous.

The forthright Princeton Borough people haven't been expected to the way these people who may be intent upon annexing Princeton. It may not be the school merger alone that is involved - possibly it is an ultimate goal to which some of these Township people are dedicated. Eventually they may inculcate themselves in to the business of combining the planning, the judiciary and the governmental administrations at all local levels.

The whole idea of merger is bound to have overtones of social upheaval. The pure school-educational factor is, I think, a quasi-secular. I would guess that their aim is to reshape Princeton into one big centrally patterned on the order of a Kendall Park or a Levittown but of course somewhat more pretentious.

Doubtless not a philanthropic gesture, but apparently they are anxious to amalgamate the Princeton society into a common mass with their own Township members emerging as leaders. Given the same opportunity they might even attempt to merge Princeton University with Rider College. So the idea merger seems to be something akin to re-appropriation. It simply means putting the vote and power where the people are - in this case the Township.

And the Negro, God Bless him, is simply a pawn in the manipulations of all this. They are good people, hard-working, industrious and good friends. I seriously doubt that the parents of the two brothers who have delivered my wedding paper for several years want to see them based about the house like so much furniture being moved around.

They are getting a helluva good education in the Borough schools and I believe they are making road social gains as well. To trample the children around by bus as so much salt and pepper is ludicrous in itself. Is that in itself going to "strengthen" the community? I will observe that walking to school or bicycling would provide more to strengthen it.

It is nature of people who come into one place from another and change and adapt to suit themselves. But why are they complaining so? With Princeton High, rated highly, Riverside, Littlebrook, Valley Road and Community Park there are certainly enough schools and space to educate their children. And still another new school under construction. Not to mention the excellent private schools which I am certain a great many privileged Township boys and girls attend.

Let the Township build a high school. In the next ten years they'll be full.

I would go on the assumption that the people of the Borough of Princeton want to see it governed in the Princeton tradition. Its reputation stands as the finest. And Princeton is a good town in the U.S.A. Don't give it away to outsiders. Vote No.

Fluoridation Involves Rights.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
The current debate on fluoridation fails, in my view, to lay sufficient stress on the heart of the matter. This is simply that subjection of every user of the public water supply to involuntary medication on the strength of the advisory opinions of appointive boards establishes a precedent inconsistent with our democratic procedures of discussion and voting, and sets an example of decision - making which could undermine the basis of our liberties.

Public health measures rest, like police powers, upon a basis of law and upon the consent of the governed. Adding a form of medication to the water supply is not analogous to the power to control contagion, to prevent fraud in food retailing, to inspect meats, it is a gratuitous invasion of private right.

For an official agency of the community to exceed its powers in this manner is not a responsible act, is not in the public interest and should be curbed.

CITIZENS WATER COMMITTEE

Even if the proposed introduction of medication into the common water supply were achieved infallibly and with unvarying accuracy in control of amounts of what is in wrong amounts; a poison, even if the utility of fluoridation for adults who constitute the larger proportion of the users water, were universally provided and accepted in disinterested medical and dental circles, and even if the differing experiences of communities that have begun or abandoned fluoridation furnished reliable criteria for a Princeton decision, - it would still be in order for the electorate to express its approval or disapproval.

Persuasion, not force, is the means by which an enlightened electorate must proceed in self-government. Abduction of rights by default through apathy points the way to the extinction of rights.

BUS ROUTES PASSED

For Suburban Transit, The Board of Public Utility Commissioners has authorized the expansion of Suburban Transit's bus routes to Hightstown, Monroe Township and Trenton. Both Princeton and the Township, as well as the University and other bus companies, objected to the expansion during hearings in May.

Suburban applied for two routes through the Hightstown area and extension of service into Trenton. It currently serves passengers between New York, New Brunswick, Princeton and Lawrence Township. Each application was approved for 25 buses.

The Board attached 18 restrictions to its approval, several affecting Princeton. One in the Princeton - Hightstown route, buses may operate with

Tapestries on View

Wool mosaic tapestries by Ann Wiseman will be exhibited in the lobby of McCarter Theatre during the Fall Drama Series.

Well-known to Princeton from her exhibitions in other galleries, Miss Wiseman is a textile designer and illustrator as well as an artist with wool and needle. She has participated in the Boston Art Festival, II Biennale in Milan, American Museum of Natural History, the Museum of Fine Arts in Portland, Maine, the Metropolitan Museum in Providence, Rhode Island and in many other galleries.

Her books include "Tony's Flower," which she wrote and illustrated, and "Bi-cycle in the Sky" and "Cent Ideas Pour Recycle," for which she was the illustrator.

"closed doors" on Washington Road between Nassau Street and the Princeton - West Windsor line, a policy permitted by state law.

In an agreement between Suburban and Capital Transit, Suburban buses will not take local passengers between the Perry Street terminal in Trenton and the Nassau Street - Bayard Lane intersection in Princeton, and between the latter point and the Nassau - Fox Road junction.

Capital has applied for an increase of five cents a fare to the Public Utilities Commission, and the hearing has been scheduled for October 18 at 10:30 in room 316 of the State House Annex. Student fares would be increased 50 cents to $2.30 monthly. The company serves 37 communities in Mercer, Burlington and Middlesex Counties.

As a concession to Starr Transit which operates between Princeton and Hightstown, Suburban may not schedule a trip within 30 minutes of a Starr departure, and must originate or end their Hightstown runs in Trenton. Starr makes five trips daily, mainly at rush hours.

The Board found that Starr does not serve the Leisure World retirement community, hearing completion, and spokesmen from Amcon Construction Company, Foragate Farms and Country Club, McGraw-Hill and RCA Astro Electronics, as well as Leisure World, supported the proposed routes.

FASTER AND BETTER: Leonard Thomas (right) thinks students receive a better education in private schools and Al Kandell believes they learn faster as they would send their child to one in preference to a public school — if money were no object. (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: If money were no object, would you send your child to private or public school?

Where asked: Princeton Shopping Center.

Leonard Thomas, Grovers Mill, mechanic for Nini Motors private school. I think students learn faster in a private school. I think you learn more in a private school than in smaller classes, better education.

Al Kandell, Trenton, mechanic for Nini Motors private school. I think students learn faster in a private school. They are a year ahead of public schools in most subjects. I feel the educational system is much better in a private school. There are more teachers for smaller groups of children.

Mrs. Betty Hubbard, 150 Valley Road, taxidermy. Public school. I think they do a better job. We sent our kids to St. Paul's — they had no gym even and it was strictly all religion. We have four children and we found they picked up a lot since we put them in public schools, especially the school system here. It's much better, regardless of price. If someone is a slow reader they put him in a special class; they don't try to make him keep up. Public schools have special training for those who are slightly retarded. My four have picked up 100%.

Mrs. Marnie Rockafellar, Hubben Apartments, housewife. Private school, especially at the high school level so geared toward mechanical things. If a child is gifted, I think he has a better chance to develop his talent in a private school.

P. W. Yeaman, 72 Library Place, retired naval officer. Private, because the legislature controls public education. The legislature says what may be taught and what may not be taught. Private schools you get a better education in private school, not in every one, of course, but in most.

Mrs. Creighton Burk, 106 State Road, housewife. It would depend on the quality of the public education, but if it were as good as Princeton's schools I would send them to the public school. I would see much pain in spending the money because I don't think it's all that much better. I don't think the benefits are that much greater.

Mrs. Ann Smith, Fackler Road, housewife. Generally public rather than private. Both my husband and I agree that the private school is the rich man's reform school. I associate with all kinds of people that they get primarily the better on the level. I think it's difficult and the problem children. Some parents are so anxious to get rid of them.

Ellen Westler, 100 Clover Lane, housewife. I think it depends very much on the community. In Princeton, certainly, I'd send them to public school as long as they were happy and had no problems. In New York, where I am from, I feel that I would be forced to send them to private school. The public school system in New York has so many horrible problems which it has not been able to solve yet.

Berrie Richardson, 2614 Leigh Avenue, laundry worker. Private school. I think they would get better attention. It wouldn't be so overcrowded as public schools are. That would be my only reason.

Mrs. C. A. Price, 80 Wheaton, housewife. Private. I think the instruction is superior and the chances of getting into a good college are better.

Mrs. Hugh Price, Rocky Hill, housewife. Unless you have a lousy public school system in which you have no choice, you have to send them to private school. I think a public school, public school has a better environment, there's not so much pressure — it's much more relaxed. A child usually has rigorous study demands in a private school and I think it's wise not to start them bearing down so young. They'll have enough of that when they get older.

Mrs. Frank H. Letton, 217 Harrison Street, housewife. Well, I went to both and I liked the private school better. I preferred the attention and the smaller classes.

Mrs. Kathryn Dunlop, 203 Dana, Princeton-Windsor Apartments. Unless my child had a particular problem or a talent that needed developing I'd say public. We moved here just because of Princeton's school system. I sometimes feel a private school is limited in the types of people a child meets, their students aren't prepared for the outside world. The smaller child gets more individual attention and they get used to that and they expect it all the time. This has been my personal experience. On the other hand, if money were no object, and if I lived other than in Princeton, I think I'd send private — unless I believed the schools were as good as Princeton.

J. F. Raskin, Brooklyn, lawyer. On balance, I'd say private, although I can see advantages and disadvantages to both. It's a very difficult decision to make. I do feel you can get just as good an education in a public school as you can in a private school. Private schools are more selectively grouped and I see the other hand you have to learn to deal with all kinds of people. I associate with all kinds of people on the level. I think it's a good idea to have a child become accustomed to this while he's young.

the first TD with a fine 34 yard burst around the end and then going over from ten yards out. Martin got the other Princeton co-punter, explaining on a gift from the lovers when they failed to field a kickoff and Clint Johnson fell on the ball on the Rutgers' 14.

The story of the game, of course, was the fact that Rutgers had Princeton's victory stamped in its own territory on six different occasions during the sanguine afternoon and six times Charlie Gogolak boomed a placement over the goal posts. All but one, including the 32-yard sparkler — shot across with plenty to spare — was caused by a slight fumble in handling the snap.

To have three points scored on you when you have held the other team to fourth down and six on your own 35 is demoralizing. Assistant A.D. of the 32-yard shot. He reported that Rutgers had drilled for two weeks on running placekicks but that Gogolak's mauling was so fast that there was no chance to block one.

For the record, the field goals were 32, 27, 41, 37 and 27 yards. Five had a favoring breeze but the second longest, at 41 yards, was into the wind and it was at all times somewhat tricky. Referee John Wenzel, new to Gogolak's style, was so overwhelmed by the parabolic that the 32-yard shot took that he ran a course similar to its flight but without confirming the three points.

Gogolak twice kicked three field goals last year, against Dartmouth and Harvard, but Saturday's six amounted to two thirds of his 1964 total. Because Columbia's defense is effectively as did Rutgers,

Gogolak isn't likely to boot the Tigers a 6-6 halftime deadmore than a couple this time, lock with less than a minute to play.

Following an exchange of every time a scoring threat points after the Hornets had scored the game's first six points late in the second quarter. Huston Webster blocked the PAT attempt, McEwen fielded a punt about midfield, cut to his right and threaded his way through a host of would-be tacklers down the sideline to the 10. Thirty-nine seconds showed on the clock.

PIS TRIPS HAMILTON

Here Saturday. On occasion, Princeton High School displayed considerable skill in the art of winning football Saturday as it came down behind to register a hard-fought, well-earned 19-13 victory over an unexpectedly well-balanced Hamilton team.

But of the Little Tigers are to make it two in a row at this expense of a strong Thomas, Jefferson squad, which comes tonight Saturday at 2 seeking its own second straight. Their offense will have to be less surgical and their blocking and tackling more effective.

Jefferson, 25-0 conqueror of Edison in its opener last week, will serve as a reliable benchmark to the suggested excellence of the Blue and White. "Jefferson should be as strong as last year," commented PIS coach Dick Ward, "and if we do well against them, we should know where we stand." Indeed, should PIS ship by T.J. the feat would place it near the top of the mountain in relation to other Mercer County elevations.

Four Stand Out. To four players must go the major credit for Saturday's triumph. The preeminence of the performances of three was obvious to everyone in the stands. The running of wingback Ed McEwen, particularly on punt returns; the passing of tailback Bill Cirullo who was on target when he had to lead the pass-receiving of Vince Baccifuso, who at 5-9, 130 pounds may have been the smallest player on the field but who may have seemed ten feet tall to the Hamilton secondary.

Less noticeable but contributing, just as much to victory was the all-around play of captain Rick Stewart. A two-way player, Rick is centered on offense and a linebacker on defense.

"Stewart was in the middle all the time," said Ward. "His offensive blocking was very good and his diagnosis of Hamilton's plays from his linebacker position was excellent."

McEwen Sets It Up. Trailing 13-12, PIS won it in the fourth quarter when, after Jeff Bulluck had recovered a Hamilton fumble, McEwen spurred 34 yards to the visitor's 20. Cirullo then hit Baccifuso with a pass to the end from where fullback Craig Beachell rammed over a play later Mike Joyce's conversion was good.

To score its first two TDs, PIS used this modus operandi with demoralizing effectiveness: a deep punt return followed by a pass to Baccifuso. This formula earned the PIS —acquiescence of play leading to Princeton's second tally in the third quarter which brought it to within one of Hamilton at 13-12. McEwen returned the kick-off to the Hamilton 48. Cirullo connected with a running pass to Tom Wood to the 27. Cirullo, after being thrown for a loss, rebounded with another to Bascantano to the two, from where fullback Lou Balestrini banged over a play later.

This time, Floyd split the uprights but an offside penalty nullified the 13-12 tie. His second attempt from five yards farther out was wide to the left.

Observations Noted. One contest doesn't make a season but some observations were apparent after the opener. Foremost was the passing. It is good.

Wood called Cirullo's 7 for 11 effort "the best passing attack we've had in three years." It was Princeton's ability to strike throughout the air which, more than anything else, made Hamilton's tight defense to loosen.

Second, PHS cashed in on every scoring opportunity. When it got within point blank range it didn't suffer from

Becky Coach Named

Johnny "Red" Wilson, who spent eleven years in the National Hockey League and has since been a successful coach of top Canadian amateur teams, has been named to coach the sport at Princeton University.

Wilson succeeds R. Norman Wood, whose resignation to devote full time to business interests was announced earlier this month. A native of Killebride, Ont., Wilson, now 36, began his NHL career at the age of 21.

He played as a wing for the Detroit Red Wings, was traded to the Chicago Black Hawks and then back to the Wings. Later he saw service with the Toronto Maple Leafs and the New York Rangers, playing during the course of his career on three Stanley Cup winners. At one time, he held the NHL consecutive game record of 580.

Wilson's coaching record of 100 wins and 100 losses in his first game, the label "opportunistic" fits.

Third, the blocking and tackling looked ragged. "It was poor 75 percent of the time," Wood observed. Except for that rapier scoring thrust in the closing seconds of the second period, PHS was largely unimpressive throughout the first half. Hamilton dominated the game.

The fault was not entirely Princeton's, however. Although Wood remarked after the game that his team didn't play as well as it should have, he added that he thought Hamilton's offense was very strong. "They were stronger than we expected," he said, and they defended in very well, too."

Fourth, the running at Benchell at fullback was good but that of McEwen bordered on the spectacular. His performance is all the more impressive in light of his size: 5-6, 150 pounds. In addition, McEwen played a whale of a game as a defensive safety-man.

Overall, the team's performance for a first game was a good one. The play was sloppy at times but one can still ascribe much of this to lack of experience.

Most important, the team flashed co-ordinating offensive thrusts, and brief though they were, they were unlike any seen last year. (The team has already matched last year's number of TDs through the air.) Whether this offensive power will jell for even longer periods against Thomas Jefferson — as it must — will be answered Saturday.

ISHU OVERLOOKED

A Brother Act in 1929. Last week's report in TOWN TOPICS that Paul and Pete Callahan and their brothers in captain opposing teams in Palmer Stadium was incorrect. As a number of readers pointed out.

Forty-five years ago, Mike Callahan explained to a team that came here to play a Tater was led by his young brother, Tim. As was the case last Saturday, the Princeton football brother act won. In 1929, it was Tim Callahan's Tigers 20, Mike Callahan's Bears 14. Paul and Pete Callahan were the only twin brother act in Princeton football history.

HALL WINS IN GOLF

With 72 at Hopewell. Harry Hall Jr. won the annual golf Tournament staged last week at the Hopewell Golf Club by the Princeton Chamber of Commerce. There were 56 entries.

Hall shot a 72, with a 79 by Brad Dinsmore taking runner-up honors. A three-way tie for low net occurred among Ted Tams, Glenn Esbach and De Witt Boice, all of whom recorded 72s with the aid of their handicaps. A playoff is planned.

Tom Moore was the winner in the Calloway System play, also with a 72. Frank Quinn's 74 took second place.

HOLT FIRST IN SAILING

On Carnegie Sunday. A total of 482 points won Sunday's regatta staged by the Carnegie Sailing Club for Phil Holt. Robbie Holt was crew.

John Reeder was second in ten-ton field with 413 points. Bob Wilson scored 31.4 to take third.

HUN OPENS SATURDAY

Against Farragut Here. The Hun School, which won all eight of its football games last year for its best record since 1929, will open its 1965 campaign Saturday at 5:30 against Admiral Farragut. The contest will be played at the Hun field and there is no admission charge.

Four five lettermen remain from that all-conquering squad: Jay Ruhl and halfback Mike Miller will co-captain the 1965 Red and Black; another end, Jack Partridge; tackle Roger Carlson; and Bruce Armstrong, a guard. Not unexpectedly, Hun coach Hawley Waterman reported that with so many new players, the squad hasn't made as much progress as last year's veteran-dominated outfit had at this point.

"We have a lot of people," said Waterman, "but there is a considerable drop-off after the first term. We will bring in more players on defense but it means that a lot of our boys are going to have to play both ways."

Because he experimented with units rather than individuals, Waterman reported the results of two pre-season scrimmages were largely inconclusive. As a result, he said he had no way of guessing how his team would fare in the opener with Farragut.

"They play in a slightly bigger league than we do," he said. —Continued on Page 41

A SENSE OF WHERE YOU ARE

A Profile of Princeton's Bill Bradley
BY JOHN MCPHEE

"A Sense of Where You Are."

by John McPhee

When the greatest player in the history of the Ivy League left the Princeton basketball floor for the last time, some 2,000 undergraduates rose to their feet and showered him with five minutes of thundering worship.

Athletic prowess alone would not explain the Bradley magnetism. It is the quality of the man himself — with his self-discipline, his rationality, his commitment to religious goals — that has aroused national admiration. Here is the Bradley story, written by John McPhee, the writer who knows Bradley best. In lucid prose, McPhee makes clear to the reader the training and techniques which have made Bradley the great athlete he is. This part of Mr. McPhee's book is a blueprint to great basketball.

Bradley in Book Form

John McPhee, the Princeton writer whose profile on Bill Bradley appeared in The New Yorker last winter, has expanded his article into book form. Titled "A Sense of Where You Are," it was published this week by Farrar, Straus & Giroux and is available at the University Store and other bookshellers ($3.75, 144 pages plus numerous pictures).

McPhee, an editor at Time, has rounded out his story on Bradley's career with preliminary chapter, followed by the New Yorker profile as chapter two and then four others. The latter deal with the weeks which followed appearance of the New Yorker piece: the 1965 Ivy League race; the Eastern Tournament; the National Championship, in which Bradley tore up the record book; and 4 summary, "Points and Honors."

McPhee's writing blends a high degree of ability with knowledge of the sport that only a former basketball player could have. The action pictures are extremely well chosen and the book should help preserve a magnificent memory in tangible form.

A BIG HOUSE for a large family . . . on two lovely acres in Princeton Township, yet close to Johnson Park School and only a short drive to downtown shops, this fine residence looks like a manor house, with its post-and-rail fences, the meadow in front and the long driveway. Located in one of the most desirable residential enclaves in Princeton's Western Section, the frame and brick house is only four years old, yet the plantings around this beautiful home are already well-established. Lofly trees provide a charming background for the house, and the grounds in back are spacious enough for all the children, and all their friends, to play in. All rooms are large, and the floor plan regulates traffic so that a family with many children can engage in all its varied activities without conflict—mother can entertain, the children can play and study, and father can be alone with the contents of that bulging briefcase. Here is a house that will accommodate lots of furniture, lots of clothes . . . and lots of toys. Large living room with fireplace, spacious dining area, modern kitchen, library with fireplace, paneled playroom, powder room . . . and 6 big bedrooms and 3 baths. This splendid property has much to commend it to the family which has outgrown its present quarters. (Sole Agent) $74,500

OLD COLONIAL . . . but very beautifully restored and modernized. 5 bedrooms, 2 baths and a powder room. Two living rooms with fireplaces, 4 zone baseboard heat, large family room, modern kitchen with vast, old fashioned fireplace in the breakfast area. Acre of land. Barn. (Sole Agent) $29,500

SPLENDID . . . hidden on a knoll in the woods, this fine property is designed for people who want to enjoy life in great style. The house sprawls informally around its terrace and swimming pool, yet the brick front is conservative and very elegant. Large living (30 x 27) and dining rooms (24 x 15), superb kitchen, separate guest room and bath, big recreation room, 4 other bedrooms and 3 baths. (Sole Agent) $97,500

NEW HOMES . . . will be decorated to suit your taste and match your furniture. Three of these fine homes are of traditional Colonial architecture, and the fourth, built on a sloping lot, is one-story in front, two stories in back. These fine homes include a Colonial with 5 bedrooms, 3 baths at $65,000, another at $66,500, a beautiful brick Colonial at $69,500, and a white brick Contemporary at $79,500. Each of these stately residences is located on two acres, well set-back from this road. And to qualified buyers, the owner will offer very liberal terms.
